

A photograph of a wooden rowing boat on a body of water. The boat is viewed from the front, showing its curved hull and two wooden oars resting on the seats. The water is calm, reflecting the sky and the boat's structure. The overall tone is serene and contemplative.

When they brought their boats to the shore, they left everything and followed him.

Welcome to OUR LADY of GRACE!

Welcome to all who are joining us for the celebration of the Eucharist. There are many ways and parish organizations to participate in our life in Christ. See the directory on page 7.

We invite all who attend OLG to become registered members of our parish. Registration forms are available on the table in the main entry of the church or the parish office. Registration allows us to communicate and effectively provide for your needs. It is necessary for baptism, marriage, and godparent or sponsor certification.

Mindfulness of Others—Please silence all devices and refrain from using them during the liturgy. The parish has a Children's Chapel located in the northwest corner of the church. Parents with restless children are welcome to make use of this chapel. We ask that this chapel, like the church itself, remain free of food and drink.

Allergies—The first morning Mass of the Sunday or feast day will always be incense-free.

REMINDER: Flu Season Precautions
The parish is currently practicing safety precautions during the flu season.

Our traditional means of sharing the Sign of Peace and the Blood of Christ will return about mid-April.

Invitation to the RCIA

Our Lady of Grace Parish welcomes all who seek to enrich their faith life and explore the possibility of becoming a Catholic Christian. Our community shares and celebrates this journey with them through a process called "The Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults." If you are curious about what Catholics believe and may be interested in learning more about joining the Catholic faith—or perhaps you are an adult Catholic looking to be fully initiated—you are cordially invited to enter the RCIA process and experience a new and enriched meaning to your life through renewed faith and love. For more information, please contact Deacon John Sawaya at jsawaya@olg-church.org or (858) 869-5079.

GUEST COLUMNIST

ALICE CAMILLE

O Lord, I Am Not Worthy

Make a list of all the truly good people you have known. Don't be shy: Put yourself on the list if you think you have the moral fiber to be there. My list would certainly include my maternal grandmother, the model of every generous impulse I've ever had; a loving teacher in high school who took a special interest in me and other struggling students; a friend I made in seminary who didn't have a prejudiced bone in his body; and my young niece, who is the most compassionate little soul on the planet. I think of these four people as bona fide saints, two of them in the land of the living and two upholding my cause in heaven, I hope and pray. Any pretense I make at virtue is not in the same league as these sterling beings.

And yet, I am challenged by the thought of saying that these people, because of who they are or what they have done, are in any sense "worthy" to stand in the presence of God. Worthiness—the state of deserving what one achieves—is not something we can apprehend when we are talking about the total and absolute goodness and perfection of God. None of us is even playing on that same field, so the idea that we can become worthy by the accumulated activity of our lives is simply out of the question.

A case in point

Ask a group of people to name a biblical prophet, and the most common answer will likely be Isaiah. Isaiah owes his popularity to having been a writing prophet (unlike Elijah and Elisha, who left their legacy in the hands of storytellers), and to having been darn good at his craft. He is the prophet most quoted and set to music, and most of us can probably recite something he wrote: "Comfort, comfort O my people," "They shall beat their swords into ploughshares," "The people who walked in darkness have seen a great light," "For unto us a child is born," "In the wilderness, prepare the way of the Lord"—just for starters. Even Jesus quoted Isaiah: "For my house shall be a house of prayer." If you want an Old Testament prophecy, Isaiah is the go-to guy.

But read Isaiah on Isaiah, and you get a different sense of the man: "Woe is me, I am doomed! For I am a man of unclean lips," he declares. It takes a burning coal from heaven applied to his mouth to remove his wickedness. Pardon me, but if Isaiah had to have his mouth washed out with fire, what chance do I have?

Then there's Paul of Tarsus, the apostle to the Gentiles, the man who wrote the lion's share of the New Testament and laid the foundation for the church's self-understanding for these many centuries. He also famously suffered imprisonment, stoning, shipwreck, and eventual beheading for his faith. What place does Paul claim in the eternal scheme of things? "I am the least of the apostles, not fit to be called an apostle." If Paul is unfit to be sent by God, then I probably shouldn't even volunteer.

And then there was Peter

Look at Simon Peter, one of the Lord's best friends, appointed to wield the keys of the Kingdom and given the chair of apostolic succession. He was the clear leader of the 12 apostles and would remain at the head of the church through its first generation. His successors would continue to govern the church under his name. Peter, too, would face martyrdom by crucifixion, proving Jesus' teaching that no servant is greater than the master.

What does Peter have to say about his worthiness? "Depart from me, Lord, for I am a sinful man," he says, on his knees. So there's the tally of three of the most prominent names in the Bible: a doomed and unclean man, one unfit to serve, and a sinner uncomfortable to be in the Lord's presence. Not a worthy fellow among them!

None of this should lead us to despair of our chances to be a prophet, servant, or leader for that matter. It merely suggests that the idea of worthiness is something we should relegate to the mothballs. If we think being good will make us worthy before God, we are fooling ourselves big-time. If we think bankrolling extra prayers, being generous to charities, or even laying down our lives will mean that God owes us a place

FROM the PASTOR

VERY REV. PETER MCGUINE

Dear Parishioners,

The year was 1983. The Internet was created. IBM released the IBM PC XT. The computer mouse was invented. The U.S. Space Shuttle Challenger was launched on its maiden flight. Microsoft Word was first released. Swatch introduced their first watches. The first mobile phones were introduced to the public by the Motorola Company. The final episode of M*A*S*H aired to a record 125 million people. Cabbage Patch Dolls were sold and became a success. Margaret Thatcher won a landslide victory in General Elections in the United Kingdom. The “big movies” included Return of the Jedi, Terms of Endearment and Flashdance. And Susan Hause was hired by OLG as one of our teachers.

Fast forward to the year 2000. After serving as a teacher for 17 years, Msgr. Gallagher invited Susan to serve as the principal of OLG. Lucky for us, she accepted the invite! Founded over 60 years ago, our parish elementary school has always enjoyed an excellent reputation. Through the years, Susan has built on that reputation and has helped to make our school one of the best in the Diocese of San Diego.

Now, after almost 19 years as our principal, Susan has announced that she will be retiring at the end of this academic year. Congratulations to Susan! Her retirement is well-deserved.

A search for our new principal will begin as soon as Monday. The diocesan Office for Schools will both guide and assist us in the search. A local search committee, convened by me and composed of people representing both the parish and school communities, will help to interview candidates. Barring any unforeseen circumstances, I hope to be able to share with you the name of our new principal no later than the end of March.

I’m very happy for Susan, and I hope you are, too. At the end of this year, she will have given 36 years of her life in service to OLG School. Mark your calendar for Sun, June 2. On that day, we’ll celebrate Susan’s retirement in the Parish Center after the 11:00 am Mass.

Our Lady, full of grace. Pray for us!

Fr. Peter

in heaven, we've got it all very wrong.

Not worthy, but healed

The key to the issue is in the centurion's words that we pray a version of at every Mass. According to the story, the centurion has a dying slave most dear to him, and those around Jesus urge him to assist this Roman because, as they say, "He deserves to have you do this for him, for he loves our nation and he built a synagogue for us." In other words, here is a man surely worthy of a miracle. Yet the humble centurion sends word to Jesus from a distance: "Lord, do not trouble yourself, for I am not worthy to have you enter under my roof. Therefore I did not consider myself worthy to come to you; but say the word and let my servant be healed."

Jesus marvels at his faith. Jesus doesn't marvel at anyone else's faith in all four gospels, so this is noteworthy. And the man's servant is healed as he requested. It is for this, then, that we pray at each Mass: not to be made worthy, because that is beyond us, but simply to be healed; or as we used to say, that our souls would be healed.

Salvation from the source

Worthiness is an attribute of God. But God can bestow on us the grace to stand without fear in the divine presence because God's mercy makes up for any shortfall on our part. God's angel purged Isaiah's lips so that he could pour out the wealth of beautiful words ascribed to him. And Paul admits that, "By the grace of God, I am what I am, and God's grace to me has not been ineffective." Peter is indeed a sinful man, but Jesus tells him not to be afraid of his insufficiency. Nor should we be afraid or reluctant to come forward all the way to the Lord's Table, because God's grace is always greater than our faults, and it's all we need.
