Welcome to OUR LADY of GRACE!

Welcome to all who are joining us for the celebration of the Eucharist. There are many ways and parish organizations to participate in our life in Christ. See the directory on page 7.

We invite all who attend OLG to become registered members of our parish. Registration forms are available on the table in the main entry of the church or the parish office. Registration allows us to communicate and effectively provide for your needs. It is necessary for baptism, marriage, and godparent or sponsor certification.

Mindfulness of Others—Please silence all devices and refrain from using them during the liturgy. The parish has a Children's Chapel located in the northwest corner of the church. Parents with restless children are welcome to make use of this chapel. We ask that this chapel, like the church itself, remain free of food and drink.

Allergies—The first morning Mass of the Sunday or feast day will always be incense-free.

REMINDER: Flu Season Precautions
The parish is currently practicing safety precautions during the flu season.

Our traditional means of sharing the Sign of Peace and the Blood of Christ will return about mid-April.

Invitation to the RCIA

Our Lady of Grace Parish welcomes all who seek to enrich their faith life and explore the possibility of becoming a Catholic Christian. Our community shares and celebrates this journey with them through a process called "The Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults." If you are curious about what Catholics believe and may be interested in learning more about joining the Catholic faith—or perhaps you are an adult Catholic looking to be fully initiated—you are cordially invited to enter the RCIA process and experience a new and enriched meaning to your life through renewed faith and love. For more information, please contact Deacon John Sawaya at jsawaya@olg-church.org or (858) 869-5079.

Blessings and Woes

There are two kinds of people, as the saying usually begins. And scripture tends to bear this out with numerous points of comparisons between the just and the wicked, or the wise person and the fool. Today's readings cluster around the contrasting of those who are blessed versus those who are cursed. Although such black-and-white distinctions seem harsh in our typically grey perception of reality, biblical language is quite clear that we must expect a time of foreclosure known as Judgment Day, when the tipping point has been reached and the chance to change our course is behind us.

Judgment Day can be variously interpreted as simply the end of our lives, or more emphatically the end of time and world itself. Jesus spoke of his "hour" as both a kind of revelation and also a proving ground for who he was. Maybe we can think of Judgment as our "hour," when we find out who we truly are based on the summation of all our choices.

But many of us would certainly like to end the suspense and know as soon as possible what may be the last word on the subject of us. If you want to take your spiritual pulse right now, the prophet Jeremiah suggests, it's fairly easy. If you place your trust in people and things, you'll be sorry. If your trust is in God, you have nothing to fear.

Second opinions, anyone?

The prophetic and wisdom traditions both agree that the issue of which side you're on is cut-and-dried. You're either a "barren bush in the desert that enjoys no change of season, but stands in a lava waste" (which can't be good), or you're a "tree planted beside the waters that shows no distress even in the year of drought" (which sounds much better). The only difference is whether your hope is rooted in God. All other distinguishing factors are meaningless.

So your accumulated stuff doesn't matter, and your good deeds won't make the grade. You can't brownnose your way through this one just because you go to church, behave yourself, and write a check to the missions once in a while. Ultimately, you either trust in this world, your personal and spiritual resources, and the good opinion of others, or you place your confidence in God alone. What makes this good news is that it's a path available to anyone. Even the diehard sinner can do this and end up planted next to the saints in heaven by that selfsame stream of living water.

This news tends to make diehard sinners very happy and everybody else a little disgruntled. You mean, all that straight-and-narrow living doesn't buy any perks in the hereafter? You mean God doesn't owe me anything for passing up some great near occasions of sin? Exactly.

The Beatitudes weigh in

Trust in God, but tie your camel, the old Arab proverb advises. Trusting in God does not mean living like an idiot and taking foolish chances. Jesus advised his disciples similarly, "You must be wise as serpents, and innocent as doves." He also said if you build your house on sand, don't be surprised when it washes away. The word used here is not simply sand, but a veritable wash: Don't build your house where the water habitually comes, or you are asking for trouble!

Jesus took his own advice when he met the devil in the desert. The devil urged him to throw himself off a pinnacle and to trust that God would keep him safe. That's not a working definition of trusting in God, Jesus assured Satan. That's called tempting God!

What Jesus means by trusting in God is evident in the listing of the Beatitudes. Those who trust in God live out of the conviction that being poor, needy, sad, or despised now is the smallest and least important part of the story. What awaits those who suffer these conditions faithfully now is the day of restoration in the reign of God.

Of course, the reverse is necessarily true. Those who are comfortable, content, and well-received now will be bitterly disappointed if they bank on their present happiness. In the reign of God, those who counted on their own resources will find themselves penniless and wanting.

Trust is a verb

Somehow our idea of trusting in God has been reduced to a vague sentimental feeling, a soft emotion we keep next to our lucky socks and rabbit's foot. Or perhaps it's more like playing the celestial stock market. We put our trust in God in the waiting room at the hospital. But if we don't get the results we wanted, we become outraged that God has been untrustworthy. This isn't trust: This is making just another worldly investment and anticipating a worldly outcome.

Saint Paul defined Christian hope down to precisely one element: our faith in the Resurrection. Either it's real, or we're fools to share in the story of the church. Either Christ has been raised, or death is the winner-take-all at the end of history. Confidence in the Risen One is the barometer of our trust in the Lord. We have to place all our hopes in the big one, the contest between death's finality and life unending. Because eternal life is the only thing worthy of our hope, when you come right down to it. Everything else goes to rust, moths, and decay, and in surprisingly short order.

Those who trust in God are blessed, and those who don't get a bad case of Lucan woes. This isn't just God playing Santa Claus at the end-times, by the way: It's a reality check. If we trust in God, we get the eternal happiness that only God can offer. And if we cling to the world, we get the world, complete with its expiration date. God takes our free will very seriously. It would be good if we did, too, and examined our choices more carefully.
