We love having you as part of our flock! Get updates about Masses and parish life via email or text! Sign up! Visit olg-church.org and look for the blue and white sheep.

Public Mass Update

Good news! Public Masses are still taking place at OLG! All Masses are now being celebrated outside, in front of the church. Because the number of persons at Mass is no longer limited to 100, there is no longer a need for reservations at weekend Masses. Bring a blanket or lawn chair to sit on. Face coverings are still required, as is physical distancing. Bottled water, hats, hand sanitizer, and sunscreen are recommended. Our Ambassadors will be present to assist you. The obligation to attend Mass on Sundays continues to be dispensed by Bishop McElroy. For more info, visit olg-church.org and look for the NOTICE box.

Masses are being Streamed Online

On the parish website we have listed multiple links to options to participate in Sunday and daily Mass online in the Diocese of San Diego and beyond. Visit olg-church.org and click on the gray "Parish Update..." button and then the yellow "Sustaining Faith in the Time of Pandemic" button. Scroll to listed Mass links.

"Learn the lesson that, if you are to do the work of a prophet, what you want is not a scepter, but a hoe. The prophet does not rise to reign, but to root out the weeds."

~Saint Bernard of Clairvaux

Welcome to OUR LADY of GRACE!

Welcome to all who are joining us for the celebration of the Eucharist. There are many ways and parish organizations to participate in our life in Christ. See the directory on page 7.

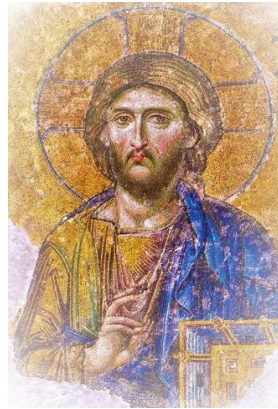

We invite all who attend OLG to become registered members of our parish. Registration forms are available on the table in the main entry of the church or the parish office. Registration allows us to communicate and effectively provide for your needs. It is necessary for baptism, marriage, and godparent or sponsor certification.

Mindfulness of Others—Please silence all devices and refrain from using them during the liturgy. The parish has a Children's Chapel located in the northwest corner of the church. Parents with restless children are welcome to make use of this chapel at any time during Mass should it be necessary. We ask that this chapel, like the church itself, remain free of food and drink.

Allergies—The first morning Mass of the Sunday or holy day will always be incense-free. The Sunday 11:00 am Mass will often include the use of incense.

Invitation to the R.C.I.A.

Our Lady of Grace Parish welcomes all who seek to enrich their faith life and explore the possibility of becoming a Catholic Christian. Our community shares and celebrates this journey with them through a process called "The Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults." If you are curious about what Catholics believe and may be interested in learning more about joining the Catholic faith—or perhaps you are an adult Catholic looking to be fully initiated—you are cordially invited to enter the R.C.I.A. process and experience a new and enriched meaning to your life through renewed faith and love. Please contact Deacon John Sawaya at (858) 869-5079 or use the "Contact us" link on the parish webpage.

I Will Open My Mouth in Parables

The kingdom of heaven is like a child accompanying her mother to the mall. As the mother peruses the rack of dresses, the little girl spies a basket of cheap bangles glittering on a low table under the phosphorescent lights. "Can I have one?" the girl cries. To keep her daughter amused while she shops, the mother replies, "Yes, but only if you find one that fits." The child immediately commits herself to the task of trying on every bangle in the basket. First she extends her arm in the air and slips on a red one, followed by a purple one, and then a gold one, until there are some dozens of bracelets covering her arm from her wrist to above her elbow. Then she lowers her arm, and the row of shiny hoops slip easily over her small hand and crash into a pile on the floor. Her lips tremble with the threat of impending sobs. The bracelets are simply too large.

But she does not cry. Instead, she sits down on the carpeted floor and examines the sparkling jewelry intently for a long time. Then, taking off her shoe, she slides the bangles one by one over her foot until her leg is adorned from ankle to knee. Replacing the shoe, she stands and dances around, the metal hoops producing jangling music. "Mommy!" she cries. "They fit!"

Hidden in plain view

Follow children around for an hour and you'll witness a parable or two in action. They seem to invent them with every step. As Jesus noted, children are the natural heirs of the Kingdom and seem to have an instinct for how Kingdom reality ought to go. All it takes to enter a parable of your own is a bit of imagination, a willingness to see familiar things in a new way, and determination to achieve your prize. It could be a harvest, a pearl, or something as simple as a loaf of bread that you're after. But even in the case of a loaf of bread, it takes imagination to believe that a spoonful of yeast could make a bowl of flour rise into new and greater life.

A friend offers this parable about driving along a highway with her granddaughter in the back seat. The child had been silent for a while, and the grandmother naturally assumed she was sleeping. But suddenly, from the back seat came this mystical declaration from the little girl: "The diamonds are coming, and the rubies are going," she said. With great authority. What could it mean?

The grandmother, intent on the traffic all around her, could not give this much thought. It was a Sunday night; the six-lane freeway was a streaming sea of cars heading in both directions, all the drivers intent on getting to their respective destinations. The grandmother had to be mindful of the road. There was no time to engage her granddaughter in fanciful conversations about treasure. The diamonds may well be coming and the rubies going—but the grandmother had to keep her eyes on the road.

And then, all at once, she saw it: the headlights streaming toward her in the three left lanes, and the taillights ahead of her in the three right lanes. The diamonds were coming, and the rubies were going. For those who had eyes to see, the night was not a tiresome ocean of relentless traffic, but a treasure to be wondered at.

We see what we believe

Popular wisdom tells us that seeing is believing. But to those of faith, believing is also a way of seeing. What we believe opens our eyes to the same old world in new and life-giving—even life-saving—ways.

In fact, I would go so far as to say that how we view reality is more significant than the reality we are viewing. How we interpret events—with hope or cynicism, with compassion or blame—determines the outcome of the events themselves. Do we see the mustard seed as absurdly insignificant, or do we dream of the day when it will be a tree large enough to shelter birds in its branches? How we look at social problems, or our own relationships, shapes our perspective on what has been done and can be done to heal them. Those who insist that nothing can be done will likely do nothing to solve them. Whereas those who trust that an answer exists are much more likely to find one.

This is not to say that the Kingdom itself is a fantasy that we might dream into being with enough imagination. To say that "believing is seeing" means we acknowledge the role that attitude, intention, and will play in the story of human history. For the one who views life as a web spun around us in which we are hopelessly caught fast, there is not much incentive to struggle toward freedom. Yet human liberty is presupposed by Kingdom reality. The householder who sows good seed is free to do so, as well as the enemy who comes at night to sow weeds. The original sower has many choices to make in his response to this attack, and what he chooses—to leave the sorting for the final harvest—is crucial. If he had chosen retaliation on his enemy, or a premature uprooting, much would have been lost in his own planting. The householder trusts the process; which is to say, God trusts divine justice and judgment. Do we?

Seeing with Kingdom eyes

Developing our ability to see as God sees requires, above all, patience. It takes time for the wheat and weeds to grow toward harvest time, just as it will be a while before that mustard seed produces a tree with branches capable of harboring songbirds. Even bread cannot be coaxed to rise any faster than it does. All of the images Jesus uses speak against impulsive action. The justice of God is mixed with clemency, as the Book of Wisdom reminds us. That's a delicate mixture, and if we are not entirely sure of the components of divine judgment, we ought not to try this at home. Leave the judging to God, Jesus tells us. In the meantime, look for the diamonds and rubies all along the way.

A Little Humor

On the way out the door to church, Mrs. Smith accidentally dropped the beautiful cake she had made for the bake sale. With no time to make a new one, she ingeniously set a toilet tissue roller in the center of the cake to give it support and then slathered icing over it. To conceal her embarrassment, Mrs. Smith planned to buy her own cake at the sale which commenced immediately following Mass.

Though she hurried to the sale, Mrs. Smith was horrified to find that her cake was already sold! Her shock compounded the next day when at the monthly book club there sat the very cake she made for the bake sale! "What a beautiful cake," Mrs. Smith said, not knowing what else to say.

"Thank you," the friend said, smiling. "I made it myself!"

A Little Humor

One day John's mother found her five-year-old son with her cell phone, which he quickly hung up when he saw her.

"What are you doing?" she asked him.

"Calling Aunt Sarah," the little boy replied.

"How could you call Aunt Sarah?" she asked, "you don't know her number."

"Yes, I do and I did call her!" he exclaimed.

After trying to get the boy to admit that he did not make any call he continued to insist that he made the call.

"Okay," she said finally. "What did she say then?"

"She told me I had the wrong number!"

He is the patron saint of pilgrims, laborers, rheumatism, several Latin American countries and Spain, where Santiago de Compostela has been a famous pilgrimage center since the Middle Ages. Some legends say James preached in Spain before
