Welcome to OUR LADY of GRACE!

Welcome to all who are joining us for the celebration of the Eucharist. There are many ways and parish organizations to participate in our life in Christ. See the directory on page 7.

We invite all who attend OLG to become registered members of our parish. Registration forms are available on the table in the main entry of the church or the parish office. Registration allows us to communicate and effectively provide for your needs. It is necessary for baptism, marriage, and godparent or sponsor certification.

Mindfulness of Others—Please silence all devices and refrain from using them during the liturgy. The parish has a Children's Chapel located in the northwest corner of the church. Parents with restless children are welcome to make use of this chapel at any time during Mass should it be necessary. We ask that this chapel, like the church itself, remain free of food and drink.

Allergies—The first morning Mass of the Sunday or holy day will always be incense-free.

Invitation to the R.C.I.A.

Our Lady of Grace Parish welcomes all who seek to enrich their faith life and explore the possibility of becoming a Catholic Christian. Our community shares and celebrates this journey with them through a process called "The Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults." If you are curious about what Catholics believe and may be interested in learning more about joining the Catholic faith—or perhaps you are an adult Catholic looking to be fully initiated—you are cordially invited to enter the R.C.I.A. process and experience a new and enriched meaning to your life through renewed faith and love. For more info, please contact Deacon John Sawaya at (858) 869-5079 or jsawaya@olg-church.org.

GUEST COLUMNIST

ALICE CAMILLE

Models in Piety

My mother used to point to a man in church whom she'd known since they were both children. "He was such a pious boy," my mother always said approvingly. "He'd be in that same third pew each morning earlier than any of us, and he'd stay later. He knelt so long, with his back so straight, and his hands folded together perfectly. It was an inspiration to me to see how he loved God."

I approached the man in question and asked him what his experience of childhood fervor was like. He sighed deeply and confessed, "I was in love with the girl in the second pew. She was like an angel. Each day I'd try to get there before she did so that I could absorb every available moment of her presence, and I stayed afterward until the scent of her was entirely gone."

The funny thing about piety is that its outward shape and inward disposition are not always in synch. Back in parochial school, a girl named Melanie impressed us all with her outstanding devotion to the Blessed Mother. When the rest of the class took recess in the yard, Melanie would wander into the church to pray. After school, she would take a break from our shared homework so that she could say her novena every hour on the hour. I thought Melanie was a saint right out of the books, and I fully expected her to be canonized just as soon as the pope heard about her.

And who knows—she just might. But then again, maybe not. The thing is, the more we see of a person's devotional life, the less he or she qualifies as a practitioner of true humility. Humility is the cornerstone of the spiritual life, and the more loudly people sound the horn before them as they pray, the less likely we are seeing signs of a genuinely converted heart.

Two people went up to pray

When we first encounter the Pharisee and the tax collector in the parable, we are at once given enough information about them to jump to all the usual conclusions. A Pharisee is by definition a person with a rigorous commitment to God, the law, ritual, and the moral code. A tax collector is a traitor to his country and his religion, making a buck off his fellow citizens by collaborating with a foreign oppressor. Which person would you expect will gain a hearing from God? The smart money is on the Pharisee, but the smart money is about to go south. Like all too many penitents in the confessional, this fellow is fully prepared to admit the wrongdoings of others and to announce his own personal goodness. In case it has escaped the attention of the Almighty, the Pharisee points out that he is a better breed of person, not like the greedy, dishonest, adulterous folks around him. And then his gaze falls on his fellow intercessor, a public figure everyone loves to hate. The Pharisee assures God that he fasts and pays tithes on his whole income—not like this thief, who profits from the Roman occupation and adds a little for himself on top. Is this self-adulation and other-directed accusation meant to be prayer? As conversations go, this one seems to be a monologue with its speaker as its object. The only room left for God might be at the conclusion, where it is surely expected the Deity will offer a hearty congratulations. But we might wonder if this is the goal of prayer, to gain the divine seal of approval.

One went home justified

These days, the term "tax collector" doesn't carry the same universal disgust as for the audience of Jesus' day. But substitute another profile—drug dealer, child molester, serial killer—and now imagine the scene paired with a modern figure whose integrity is presumed, if you can name one these days. Suddenly we begin to hear the scandal in this story and how quick we were to judge these characters. We don't expect the drug dealer to have regrets or to accept his guilt. But here we are, faced with his remorse and breast-beating humility before God. It occurs to us that we don't know the first thing about another person's heart, or what potential for transformation lies within.

Once again we have Saul of Tarsus as a handy case in point: himself a Pharisee, zealous for orthodoxy and an inflexible adherence to religious law as it had been handed down. A living, breathing, organic version of God's will had never occurred to him. So he was fully prepared to put to death the "blasphemers" who followed the way of Jesus. Similarly, the Christian community had Saul pegged as an irredeemably dangerous fellow, to be avoided at all costs. No one saw him as a big fish that Jesus intended to catch—which is why the first generation of believers never seemed to know what to do with Saul once the gospel had netted him.

THE COMMEMORATION OF ALL THE FAITHFUL DEPARTED—TRIDUUM OF MASSES AT OLG

NOV 6-7-8 (ENVELOPES ON INFO TABLE IN CHURCH VESTIBULE)

Do you know the significance of November 2? Do you know how we came to celebrate our dearly departed on this date?

Prayers for the dead were an ancient tradition, even in some pagan cultures. In Jewish Scriptures, Judas Macabeus "made atonement for the dead" (2 Mc 12:46), and early Christians inscribed prayers for their dead in Rome's catacombs.

Local Catholic churches started remembering all the faithful departed in the early Middle Ages, with a Spanish feast from the time of St. Isidore of Seville, who died in 636. The fixed November date is generally attributed to St. Odilio of Cluny, who decreed in 998 that all monasteries under the Cluny rule should sing the Office of the Dead the day after the feast of All Saints. This custom gradually spread throughout Europe and as adopted by Rome in the 13th century.

The faithful departed are those "who have gone before us marked with the sign of faith and sleep in peace."
