Public Mass Update

Masses are celebrated outside in front of the church. Bring a blanket or lawn chair to sit on. Face coverings are required, as is physical distancing. Bottled water, hats, hand sanitizer, and sunscreen are recommended. In extreme heat Masses will be moved inside. Our Ambassadors will be present to assist you. For more info, visit olg-church.org and read the red NOTICE under the Weekly Liturgy Schedule headline.

The obligation to attend Mass on Sundays continues to be dispensed by Bishop McElroy.

Masses are being Streamed Online

On the parish website we have listed multiple links to options to participate in Sunday and daily Mass online in the Diocese of San Diego and beyond. OCTOBER IS RESPECT LIFE MONTH Practice the Stewardship of Life!

"Let's say 'Yes' to life and 'No' to death."

~ Pope Francis, 2014 March for Life in France

Welcome to OUR LADY of GRACE!

Welcome to all who are joining us for the celebration of the Eucharist. There are many ways and parish organizations to participate in our life in Christ. See the directory on page 7.

We invite all who attend OLG to become registered members of our parish. Registration forms are available on the table in the main entry of the church or the parish office. Registration allows us to communicate and effectively provide for your needs. It is necessary for baptism, marriage, and godparent or sponsor certification.

Mindfulness of Others—Please silence all devices and refrain from using them during the liturgy. The parish has a Children's Chapel located in the northwest corner of the church. Parents with restless children are welcome to make use of this chapel at any time during Mass should it be necessary. We ask that this chapel, like the church itself, remain free of food and drink.

Allergies—The first morning Mass of the Sunday or holy day will always be incense-free. The Sunday 11:00 am Mass will often include the use of incense.

Invitation to the R.C.I.A.

Our Lady of Grace Parish welcomes all who seek to enrich their faith life and explore the possibility of becoming a Catholic Christian. Our community shares and celebrates this journey with them through a process called "The Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults." If you are curious about what Catholics believe and may be interested in learning more about joining the Catholic faith—or perhaps you are an adult Catholic looking to be fully initiated—you are cordially invited to enter the R.C.I.A. process and experience a new and enriched meaning to your life through renewed faith and love. Please contact Deacon John Sawaya at (858) 869-5079 or use the "Contact us" link on the parish webpage.

GROW: Have you ever had that feeling that all is right with the world? Perhaps it's the cool breeze on a crisp fall day, holding a newborn baby for the first time, or watching your friends or family enjoying each other's company around the dinner table. These are grace-filled moments that bring to mind St. Paul's words today which speak of "the peace of God that surpasses all understanding." It can be all too easy to lose sight of them amid the stresses of daily life and a news feed dominated by negativity and catastrophic events. Paul, never one to shy away from taking a stand, is not asking us to bury our heads in the sand, however. His Letter to the Philippians encourages us to "have no anxiety at all," and turn our thoughts to "whatever is true, whatever is honorable, whatever is just, whatever is pure, whatever is lovely, whatever is gracious." In doing so, we can not only counter the negativity, but persevere in faith as we confront the challenges of 2020.

GO: Paul goes on to say, in that same reading: "Keep on doing what you have learned and received and heard and seen in me. Then the God of peace will be with you." I think Paul just offered us the secret to a happy life! Allow this passage to speak to you today. Allow God's peace to permeate your heart and calm the unrest that can so easily creep in these days. And then pray that you can be the true, honorable, and gracious presence in another's life. Send this passage to a friend who may be hurting in some way, and invite him/her to think of a time recently when they felt the presence of God, the peace of God, in their life. And then offer to accompany them in their struggles – walk beside them and encourage them to "think about these things" that are excellent or worthy of praise.

PRAY: Focus on the encouragement of St. Paul's words today and pray Psalms 100, 136, and 148. Pray these sacred hymns of praise and thanksgiving, and then suggest that you pray them together with your friend.

Calling All Angels!

Our Lady of Grace parishioners have been generously serving East County families and seniors in need of life's basics at Thanksgiving and Christmas for over 31 years through the OLG Holiday Angel Program. In this time of pandemic, we are all familiar with the increased need, so the program will continue this year, except in a revised format for the safety of its volunteers and program participants.

The Angel Program will be accepting monetary donations only for Thanksgiving and Christmas. These funds will be used to purchase gift cards through OLG School's gift card program for the families and seniors in crisis. Simply determine the size of the family you would like to help and then calculate how much per person you would like to spend on the holiday meals, staples and Christmas gifts.

Suggested donations are $25/person for a holiday meal, $15/person for pantry staples, $75/child for Christmas gifts/clothes/school supplies. Of course, any donation amount is helpful; we will serve as many people as we can with the donations we receive. Please use the "Online Giving" link at olg-church.org or place an envelope with your check in the donation basket – be sure to designate your gift as "Holiday Angel Program." Thank you OLG faith family for your enduring generosity! If you have questions, please contact Angel Coordinator Lesley Bradley at (619) 878-0278.

Asking God Amid a Pandemic

I have a friend who posts COVID-19 graphs nearly every day since mid-march. His graphs show local, state, and national statistics. He tracked rates of infection, death rates, and hospitalization rates.

By the end of March, I used the “mute” option on Facebook. After 30 days, his postings showed up again. Once again, his postings were primarily data graphs regarding COVID-19 so I muted him again.

All the news, social media, and “the noise” took, my focus away from what was in my control. Data that was too big for me to have a significant impact made me focus on things outside of my circle of influence. I find when I turn off the noise and turn towards God, I properly give Him challenges that are too great for me alone to handle.

God has a plan for each of us. When we stay in our lane and not focus on what we want but do what God is leading us to, we end up accomplishing more than we ever dreamed we could do.

As a former K-8 Catholic school principal, I would talk to our 8th graders about their futures. I would ask them, “how many of you have been asked, ‘What do you want to do when you grow up?’” All the students raise their hands. I then ask, “How many of you have been asked, ‘what do you think God wants you to be?’” An uncomfortable silence comes over the classroom as none of the students raise their hands.

I continue, “How many of you ask God, ‘What do You want me to be?’” Only a couple of hands go up. In our continued conversation, many will share that they are afraid to ask God what He wants them to be because it may not be what they want to do. When asked if the student believed they would be happier doing what they were designed to do or doing what they wanted to do, the students reluctantly admit that doing what God wants for us is the way to true happiness. The hard part is asking and genuinely listening for His voice, not to put our own voice over His.

I have since moved back into the public school system. As administrators and our school board struggle to figure out what is best for our students and families amid a pandemic, many other administrators and I are still mindful that even in the public school, we are still called to do God’s work. To honestly do what is best for our students, we need to ask God for Direction and not rely solely on what we believe is best or what we want.

We are all designed by God, and all of us have a role here on Earth. As we all navigate this pandemic, let us tune out the noise that distracts us. Let’s instead, take some time in the silence and ask God, “What do you want me to do?”

Religious freedom is on your ballot

Archbishop Samuel J. Aquila
Archdiocese of Denver

September 25, 2020

A troubling trend is appearing as our country grapples with social unrest and the impact of the coronavirus, but it's not a new trend. Catholics and other people of faith are singled out for derision and sometimes physical violence. For the sake of our Church and our society, we must respond by defending the right to religious freedom, both when we vote and through our own personal witness.

The attacks on Catholics have shifted from the 19th century discrimination and claims that we can't be loyal citizens, to the recent assertions that Catholics are judgmental and hateful towards women and sexual minorities.

Just as the arguments of the Know Nothing Party in the 1850s and the Ku Klux Klan in the 1920s demonstrated a failure to understand what Catholics believe, so too do the modern attacks fail to understand and appreciate what we believe about the human person.

However, the goal of these attacks is the same: to shame and sideline Catholics within society and to increase the influence of those who do not accept God's design for human nature.

In recent years, the lashing out against the Church in the U.S. has increased in its intensity, turning from criticizing her in the media and online to labeling Catholics as discriminatory in various ministries like adoption services or health care. Within the last several months this has even turned into physical violence against our symbols, church buildings and people, as frequently occurs in places like France, parts of Africa and elsewhere in the world.

The American Founders recognized that our self-government relies on a virtuous people. The increase in intolerance and violence we see today underscores this. John Adams addressed the need for virtue directly in a 1798 letter to Massachusetts militia officers, writing, “Our Constitution was made only for a moral and religious people. It is wholly inadequate to the government of any other.” As our country moved closer toward Civil War, Abraham Lincoln emphasized that a self-governing society thrives or dissolves based on its people: “If destruction be our lot, we must ourselves be its author and finisher. As a nation of freemen, we must live through all time, or die by suicide” (Address Before the Young Men's Lyceum of Springfield, IL, 1838).

We are quickly approaching the national election on November 3, when our country will be asked to determine who is best suited to represent us in our legislature and as president. Among the premier concerns for Catholics when they vote are: Who will protect human life at every stage? Who will protect natural marriage and the family? And finally, who will defend religious freedom, protect consciences and the right of people to live out their faith in every sphere of society?

A society that has no common belief in God, and therefore in each person's identity as his beloved son or daughter, will become less human and less tolerant. When there is no God, something or someone becomes god to fill the void, leading to tragedy, and eventual societal collapse. Now is the time for us to stand up for the place of full-throated Catholic belief in public life and the valuable contributions of people of faith to society.

Essential for every Catholic to fulfill his or her duty as a citizen is knowing where candidates stand on the issues of life, family and religious freedom. It is not possible to be a Catholic in good standing and support abortion or assisted suicide, to promote unnatural sexuality, or to seek to push people of faith out of the public square. Those who do so – Catholic or not – are helping hollow out our culture and contributing to its demise. The further away we get from a virtuous and moral life the more likely will we look like Greece or Rome when they fell, or like Venezuela today. Every Catholic needs to inform themselves on where each candidate stands on these issues by reading news outlets that cover these topics, such as Catholic News Agency or the National Catholic Register.

In the early 1900s it worked for Catholics to develop our own school system, establish hospitals and run our businesses according to our faith. We served and continue to serve the poor and homeless with the charity of Christ, especially seen in the work of Catholic Charities. This was how we protected and grew our faith over the last 100 years, but the "cancel culture" that seeks to silence the sincerely held beliefs of individuals will also not tolerate the presence of these faith-driven entities if we allow it to gain enough momentum. We cannot adopt the mentality of, "it's fine for others to act that way, but we won't." The morals of society will impact us, and we cannot turn a blind eye to evil.

If we want our country to flourish, then out of charity for our fellow citizens and future generations, Catholics need to strongly advocate for the necessity of religious freedom and vote accordingly.

May God bless each of you and may God bless America!

The Most Reverend Samuel J. Aquila was named the Archbishop of Denver on May 29, 2012 by Pope Benedict XVI.
